

Artist Bio: Molly I. Brauhn

Born in Dubuque, Iowa. Molly I. Brauhn studied fine arts at the University of Northern Iowa, where she received her BFA. Upon graduation she continued her education and completed her MFA at the University of Florida. Molly then became an Instructor of Art and continues create and show her own artwork. In 2008, Molly was awarded a Summer Teaching Fellowship to Korea. The experience was rewarding, with much research gathered to share with her new classes, at Arizona Western College where she is as an Associate Professor

Molly works in many mediums including: ceramics, printmaking, book arts performance, video, sound, and installation. Working in the arts since 1996, she has lived in Iowa, New Mexico, Florida and now Arizona. Molly enjoys traveling and has been to 14 different countries, she finds inspiration in the human experience and the diversity of beliefs and opinions in the world.